

BASEBALL FANS FLOOD CLEVELAND-SERIES GAME TODAY

MANY IMPORTANT FOOTBALL BATTLES SCHEDULED—SOUTH HI MEETS BLUFFTON—ST. MARY'S NINE PLAYS TITLE GAME HERE SUNDAY

MIDWEST FOOTBALL TEAMS GET INTO ACTION TODAY

CHICAGO — Practically every football eleven in the midwest got into action today, several playing their first game of the season, but the Minnesota-Northwestern contest at Evanston and the Chicago-Purdue clash were the only ones with any bearing on conference or sectional championships.

These two games easily were the most important of the day, for the loser in each would be virtually eliminated from the western conference race. Minnesota was considered the favorite over Northwestern primarily because of the latter's poor showing against Knox last week, while in the Chicago-Purdue match there was little to choose between the two teams.

OHIO STATE TO BATTLE OBERLIN

COLUMBUS — Ohio State winds up its series of preliminary games this afternoon with Oberlin and thereafter will confine its operations to contests with big ten teams. Today's contest will be the first in which Oberlin and Ohio State have met since four years ago when the up-state team was defeated by the Buckeyes 123 to 0. Oberlin, however, should present a stronger line-up on this occasion, for last year the team tied with Wooster for the Ohio conference championship.

Altho Oberlin will be outweighed almost 17 pounds to the man, three all-Ohio men will help to make up what is probably the fastest outfit ever brought here by that school.

WILLIAM INJURED

Coach Wilco is expected to start the game with practically the same lineup as last week, with the exception of William, the star Buckeye fullback, who was injured last week and probably will not be able to play for at least two weeks. Isabel is expected to take his place.

Oberlin's aerial attack is said to be its strongest point on the offense and it is probable that passes will be strongly depended upon in an attempt to score on the Buckeyes.

CENTRAL HIGH DUBS MINOR TEAM 27-0

Central Hi, playing poor football, defeated the Central second team, 27-0 Friday. Both teams used numerous forward passes that in most cases failed to make gains. Coach Detrick feels confident, however, that the team will be in good shape by next Saturday when they play the strong Findlay eleven.

The second team was strengthened by several men that are ineligible or would be playing on the first team.

Among the eligible players on the second, Central playing quarter promises to develop into an expert in the next few years. He will undoubtedly get into several first team games this year.

Coach Detrick exhibited his numerous backfield men Friday. Ted Taylor, Drew, Rotroff, Douglass, Young, Mitchell and Capt. Blunk. The Findlay team that Central plays next Saturday are claimed to be the best team in the Findlay League and many Centralites expect to see the title pass to Central after next Saturday.

TROTTERING COLTS RACE TODAY

LEXINGTON, Ky. — The Kentucky, a stake event for three-year-old trotters in which seven are entered, will feature the program at the Kentucky Trotting Horse Breeders' Association Grand Circuit track this afternoon. Included in the entry list for the historic Kentucky are Duquette, Daystar, Madam Dillon, King Harvester, Natalie the Great, Voleta and Lucile Harvester.

The 2:12 race, secondary feature, has seven entries including Pat Pointer, Captain Mack, Abbie Dryad, Cherry Willis, Tango, J. L. Jr., and Lady Brooke.

The 2:16 trot has been split into two divisions due to the big entry list for the event. Charley Herr Jr., Crex, Mighell, Just David, Hilda Fletcher, Alma Todd and Lenora Watts will go in the first division, while Bingen Bold, Harvest Stream, Wagner, Virginia, Miss Parkwood, Betsy Morrow and Belston are entered in the second division.

UNCLE WILBERT NOT SO SURE

WILBERT ROBINSON: "If our pitching staff performs up to the standard of the first three games, I don't see how we can lose. Some of the team think they won't play again in Brooklyn this year, the idea being that we will take the necessary three games here. I believe we can beat the Indians and will, but I prefer to count my victories day by day, instead of figuring in advance that we can't lose."

TRIS SPEAKER: "We have just begun to fight. You know they had us down a few times in the American League, but they could not keep us down Brooklyn has us down now, but they can't keep us down. We have been hitting harder than Brooklyn, but our hits haven't been going right at their fielders. We figured on taking two out of the first three and didn't so we'll make it up here."

ST. MARY'S IS CONFIDENT

Interest here in the baseball game Sunday afternoon at the Murphy-st park between the Lima Independents and the St. Marys nine is increasing as reports from that indicate that they are strengthening their team and are confident of winning the game.

Lima now has them two games to their one. Sunday's contests, a double header being scheduled, will be decisive as to which team will hold the title between the two towns.

Football Games In Ohio Today

COLUMBUS — Football games scheduled for Ohio today are: Oberlin at Ohio State, Ohio Northern at Wesleyan, Muskingum at Geneva, Marietta at Bethany, Otterbein at Denison, Kenyon at Miami, Western Reserve at Akron, Wooster at Hiram, Ohio at Cincinnati, Baldwin-Wallace at Heidelberg, St. Ignace at Mount Union.

ADA MOPS UP ON VAN WERT BY 90 TO 0

Ada high school, playing excellent football, overwhelmingly defeated Van Wert Friday, 90-0. This makes the third straight game that Ada has defeated without their opponents making a score.

Ada has piled up 217 points against Kenton, St. Marys and Van Wert. The same team is back in school this year that played last year when they claimed the championship of Northwestern Ohio.

Central Hi plays Ada Nov. 6 at Ada. This is expected to be a good game as the Centralites feel confident they will come out the winner.

WORLD SERIES PUTS PEP IN CLEVELAND

(BY HAROLD JACOBS)

CLEVELAND—(United Press)—In Brooklyn the world series was a mere incident in the busy life of the nation's metropolis; in Cleveland it is the beginning and end of all things.

Brooklyn, as one of the family group of greater New York, has shared indirectly in the various championships in which the Giants have been contenders and back in 1916, the Dodgers had a shot at the title themselves. As a result, Gothamites are fed up on world series, and besides New York is too big for any one thing to dominate its attention.

Cleveland is the biggest city in Ohio and Ohio is the home of both of the principal presidential aspirants. Yet, it is doubtful if withdrawal of either or both from the race would displace Tris Speaker and his tribe from first place in the minds of Clevelanders—man, woman and child—at this time.

If you can imagine an insane asylum filled with 500,000 persons, all with the same mania, you may have a faint conception of what Cleveland is Saturday, with the Indians starting the first of their four game series on the home grounds a game behind the Dodgers.

There is just one thought in the mind of the average Clevelander: "The Indians will be proclaimed champions of the world on Tuesday, the last day of the home series." This means, of course, that Speaker's men must take four straight, and that is just what the home folks expect.

BLUFFTON HI IN LIMA FOR GAME TODAY

Coach Jackson's fast South Hi football squad met Bluffton Saturday afternoon at College Field. At the start of the game both teams were confident of winning the game, and a hard fought battle seemed likely as the whistle blew for the opening of the contest.

Before the game opened it was probable that this line-up would start for the Lima school:

Smith, le; Ireland, lt; Dalby, lg; Miller, c; Berger, rg; Fanoff, rt; Feltner, re; Goudrich, lb; Weggarber, fb; Capt. Quillen, th, and Shaw, qb.

Weather was a little too warm for good football. The field was dusty and players for both teams did not seem full of pep. South Hi's rooters were out in full force, with a number from Central pulling for the home team.

Bluffton Hi is represented by a strong heavy team which has made a good record for itself so far this season.

Jack Jerpe, Fosteria, is the official.

about 25,000 mono-manics, equipped with various and sundry noise-making devices, including lungs that that been aching for the opportunity to show their prowess before some thing besides inanimate scoreboards.

Cleveland fans showed their sportsmanship when they gave a rousing reception at the Hotel Wagon Friday to "Zach Wheat" as they thought. The trouble was that instead of being Zach, it was Henry L. Farrell, sports editor of the United Press, who was dropping around to the hotel to get the latest dope from Manager Robinson and his players.

Tris Speaker could make four home runs Saturday and there would be one person in the stand who would take it all as a matter of course. That person is his mother, Mrs. A. O. Speaker, who came all the way from Hubbard City, Texas to see her boy perform. To her way of thinking anything that would be superhuman for any other man would be just natural for Tris.

Fred C. Roeggs of Cleveland, enthusiastic extraordinary, who won the title of "champion rooter" at the Brooklyn games, worked practically all night and up to shortly before game time organizing a cheering section. He hoped to transfer the entire Cleveland contingent into one big noise. He said his "ace in the hole" would be John C. Weaver, a local celebrity known as the "big laugh" and said to be the most sonorous guffaw extant.

The hotels here were "packed" on "in" three and four to a room. A fairly good-sized crowd came on from New York, but most of the out-of-town fans were from Ohio towns. A group of about a hundred arrived together from Philadelphia.

AUTO SPEED CHAMP VISITS IN LIMA

Ot Loesche, who on Labor day won the title of "world's hull climb champion" for the Lexington Minute-Man Six by taking first place in both the free-for-all and the 300-cubic-inch events at Pike's Peak, drove into Lima Friday in the winning car.

With him was D. E. Truener, publicity director of the Lexington company. They stopped over-night at the Moon garage.

CLEVELAND IS WILD OVER BASEBALL AS SERIES RESUMES

CLEVELAND — Baseball pride, smoldering in the hearts of Cleveland fans thru 42 years of championship aspirations, boiled today to fury of excitement today for the fourth game of the world's series between Brooklyn and Cleveland.

Since 1897, when Cleveland first went into organized baseball, it had to be content with standing by and watching its major league rivals carry off the championship in the national game. Other cities have been accustomed to world's series perhaps. But this is Cleveland's first and everything has been forgotten save one thing — baseball. Two Ohioans fighting for the presidency has no interest to Cleveland today. The paramount question is baseball wherever crowds congregate.

FANS CROWD CITY

Every incoming train and suburban car dumped its load of fans into the city, filling up every hotel and rooming house to capacity. Early indications were that a capacity crowd of 27,000 persons would witness today's game and that thousands would be turned away. Every reserved seat has been sold a month.

Altho Brooklyn has the edge of one game, the Indians will take on their own a series of the first time during the series and figure they will play in improved form. Stanley Coe, the coal miner from the anthracite regions of Pennsylvania, who pitched Cleveland to victory in the first game, is expected to be Manager Speaker's selection, while "Big Jeff" Pfeffer is regarded as Manager Robinson's choice.

COVELESKIE RESTED

Coveleskie has rested for four days and always works best with that length of time intervening between his starts. Pfeffer has not participated in any of the games since the start of the series, and is reported to be ready. Both Coveleskie and Pfeffer are right handers.

The sun rose on League Park today with Edward Fox, of Proctor, Vermont, holding first place in a line of several hundred persons awaiting the sale of the 9,000 general admission tickets. Fox, altho red-eyed, a little tired and a little sleepy was happy.

He took up his station in front of the ticket window at 2:15 o'clock yesterday afternoon, carrying a large box, which he said contained his supper, his midnight lunch, his breakfast and his lunch for today. Fox, who came all the way from Seattle, Washington, to see the game glanced at the rapidly growing line behind him. "They're wise birds," he said, "that's the only system; the early bird catches the ticket."

LIME FORMS EARLY

Others began lining up soon after Fox planted himself on a box in front of the ticket window. A Cleveland fan dropped into second place and Edward Brown, Youngstown, took up third. Behind Brown came the first woman in line. She was Miss Julia Kelly of Bridgeport, Conn., who, with her escort, said they were friends of Steve O'Neill, the catching "ace" of the Cleveland club.

Down-town Cleveland was honey-combed with ticket scalpers despite every effort made to halt them. Fifty agents of the Cleveland club working under the personal direction of President James C. Dunn

"WE HAVE DETERMINED"
"We have determined," says George Sylvester Viereck, leader of a crowd who by persistent opposition to all war measures sniped at the backs of American soldiers all thru the war, "We have determined that there shall not be another Democratic President in a generation."

Another class of voters has determined to forsake its usual political leanings and support the Cox and Roosevelt ticket for the very reason that has set the Viereck crowd so bitterly against the Democratic party—namely, the course of the Democratic administration in carrying the war to a successful conclusion against Prussian militarism, and then in negotiating a treaty drawn with the express purpose of relieving the world from the burden of the probability of such wars in the future. And who are some of these voters who thus differ with the determination of Viereck and his followers? Let us consider a few names:

Henry Churchill King, President of Oberlin College in Ohio, long one of the strongest centers of Republicanism among all the educational institutions of the country.

Theodore Marburg, Minister to Belgium under the Taft administration, one of the most influential independent Republicans of the East, and an honor to any cause with which he connects himself.

Charles W. Eliot, ex-President of Harvard University and the best known educator in the United States.

Hamilton Holt, editor of The Independent, a man of especially wide influence among the various religious denominations of the country.

Caroline Hazard, ex-President of Wellesley, and Mary E. Wooley, President of Mt. Holyoke college, both widely influential among the women voters.

Prof. Irving Fisher, of Yale University, a profound student of national and international affairs, and a recognized authority on this subject in the United States.

Rev. Henry A. Stimson and Rabbi Stephen S. Wise, eminent clergymen of New York City. Professor Charles Seymour, of Yale University, author of the "Diplomatic Background of the War," which William H. Taft has pronounced the most illuminating book on the war so far published.

James Touney, Dean of the Yale School of Forestry, and Professor Schlesinger, President of the American Astronomical Society.

It is a sorry day when the party which once prided itself as preeminently the party of great moral issues is openly in the market trading off men and women like these for "Americans" of the stamp of George Sylvester Viereck.

"SPLIT" VOTES DON'T GO
HERE'S a timely hint for sentimental lady voters: Don't permit your admiration for some good looking candidate for President or Vice President to lead you to try to vote for the "handsome" man to the exclusion of his running mate. It can't be done.

To make this warning a bit clearer, witness an incident in Marietta, Ohio, recently, where, following a meeting at which Franklin D. Roosevelt, Democratic nominee for Vice President, had made an address, a young woman bled herself to her voting booth to register. She announced that she intended voting for Harding and Roosevelt.

The registration clerks agreed with her that Roosevelt is a fine looking candidate, but informed the fair registrant that if she chooses Roosevelt for Vice President she will also be required to vote for James M. Cox for President.

The moral of this little episode is plain. If you vote for a Democratic candidate for President, you must vote for his Democratic running mate.

And if you vote for the Republican candidate for President, the Republican Vice Presidential candidate must go with him.

However, all this is neither here nor there, since the law provides no way for an elector to split his or her presidential vote. The ballot gives the names of the candidates for President and Vice President at the top of each party ticket, immediately below the party emblem, and a circle wherein one may vote a "straight party ticket." No blank spaces appear to the left of the candidates themselves, but below these candidates are the names of 24 Presidential electors. A cross mark in the circle under the emblem means a vote for each of these electors. Or, the voter may make a cross mark before the name of each electoral candidate. Either way holds good.

The voter doesn't cast his or her ballot for the Presidential and Vice Presidential candidates, but for the electors.

PRICES, PAST AND PRESENT

THE keeper of a general store in an Indiana country town has been making some interesting comparisons between transactions in 1893 and dealings in 1920.

There is a vast difference, as evidenced by the facts presented. The store keeper referred to stated that 27 years ago a woman brought to his store ten pounds of butter worth 50 cents and ten dozen eggs worth 50 cents, thus receiving a credit of $1. For this $1 she received in trade five pounds of sugar, 25 cents; six pounds of navy beans, 25 cents; eight pounds of bulk oats, 25 cents; two pounds of coffee, 25 cents.

Now note this. One day recently another woman brought to the same store ten pounds of butter, for which she received $5 and ten dozen eggs worth $4. As part payment in merchandise she took five pounds of sugar, 95 cents; six pounds of navy beans, 75 cents; eight pounds of bulk oats, 85 cents; two pounds of coffee, 90 cents, a total of $3.46. This left a difference of $1.54 which she received in cash.

The story of the two transactions, in 1893 and 1920, is commended for careful study by those persons who believe that high prices have utterly failed to bring any more prosperity to farmers than they knew 25 or 30 years ago. Farmers who vote for a return of "normalcy," as advocated by Warren G. Harding, are taking a "long" chance, as they are bound to realize if they will but do a little thinking and just a trifle of figuring.

Twenty-three years ago the farmer who didn't have a "plaster," otherwise known as a mortgage, on his farm, was fortunate. Mortgages on farms are a scarce article in these times and for the most part the farmers have their autos and fat bank accounts instead. There should be no question as to who the farmer should vote for this fall if he consults his own best interests.

MISS LIMA: "Those who used to worry about a full dinner pail back in Mark Hanna's time are now taking lunch at a cafeteria or riding home in a flyover."

WOMEN'S QUESTIONS ANSWERED

Q. What has the Democratic party done for women's suffrage?
A. The women's suffrage plank in the Democratic platform adopted at San Francisco best answers that question. "We endorse the proposed amendment to the Constitution of the United States granting equal suffrage to women. We congratulate the legislatures of the 35 states which have already ratified said amendment and we urge the Democratic Governors and legislatures of Tennessee, North Carolina and Florida and such states as have not yet ratified the Federal Suffrage Amendment to unite in an effort to complete the process of ratification and secure the 36th state in time for all the women of the United States to participate in the fall election. We commend the effective advocacy of the measure by President Wilson."

THE BEST ON EARTH
Says Mrs. Staples of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.
"I could not eat or sleep for six months, had fainting spells and could not walk without help. I was three months in bed, caused by female trouble. My cousin, who was a doctor, told me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and it helped me greatly. This during the change of life I used the same remedy. I am seventy years old now and am able to do my own housework and walk as well as to church every Sunday morning and evening. I am recommending Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to my friends being the same troubles as I had. Your remedy is the best on earth. I cannot find words to express my gratitude to it."—Mrs. SUSAN C. STAPLES, 157 School st., Taunton, Mass.

The reason that thousands of women from all parts of the country write so grateful letters is that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has brought health and happiness into their lives once burdened with pain and illness. It has relieved women from some of the worst forms of female ills, such as displacements, indigestion, and a generation. Why don't you try it?

CARTER SERVICE MEETS WITH PUBLIC APPROVAL

One of the newest of the smaller industries of the city is that of C. S. Carter, manufacturing and retail jeweler located one door east of the United Cigar store on East High street.

Since moving to his present location Mr. Carter has been favored with a phenomenal business. No better service can be given in any city than is being granted patrons of this store. Special designs are made up on two days' notice.

The public of Lima is fortunate in having a store of this character and ability. No longer is it necessary to send away for a specially made piece of jewelry. Diamonds are mounted while the patron waits.

A complete stock of made up jewelry, watches and diamonds are carried in stock at all times.

The Changing United States

With the completion of official censuses of the 1920 census returns showing a total population of 195,683,105 in continental United States the outstanding feature of the statistics is the evidence of the growing predominance of urban over rural population. Here is a matter which merits careful consideration.

The United States, at least until the present decade, has been primarily an agricultural nation. It has been developed primarily in response to a natural economic demand in Europe for raw materials. The first charters under which colonists settled on the Atlantic coast gave evidence of that fact. The first exports of the colonies were raw materials, and the chief exports throughout the life of the nation have been raw materials. They found a ready market
because it was a natural market,
based upon the pressing needs of the old world.

Upon this market the prosperity of the nation was founded. Upon this substantial foundation America has grown to its supremacy. Such facts as these explain our general recognition of American racial life as the backbone of the republic. What then does this transition of a majority of our population from rural to urban pursuits mean to the future of the nation?

It means that as we are turning from an agricultural to a manufacturing nation we are losing our place
as the world's greatest source of supply of raw materials. The demand for such materials has given us a natural market for which we now apparently seek to substitute what might be termed an artificial market. We are changing the character of our national production. We must therefore expect to change the character of our trade and the basis of our prosperity. That is a tremendous task. It means perhaps a change in national character and a new view toward the rural ascendancy which has been a basic factor in building up our government and prosperity.

There may be hope that the change will not be extreme. The census report, which gives 54.9 per cent of our population to incorporated towns and cities, includes in such urban territory all towns of more than 2,500 inhabitants. Residents of such towns are not necessarily urban.
Towns of less than 10,000 population are more likely to be rural in character than otherwise. Some towns of 25,000 or even 40,000 are essentially rural. Taking that into consideration we are inclined to hope that the balance of power in the affairs of the nation may remain for some time in the hands of a class of

Storage Battery's Greatest Enemy

Excessive Charging Rate Makes
More Trouble for Car Owner
Than Anything Else

"The way that battery of mine
heats up is a caution," said a disgruntled motorist a few days ago to Manager Aydelotte of the Prest-O-
Lite Service Station at 123 W.
Spring St. "I can't understand it any more."

"Caution," shouted Mr. Aydelotte, "is just what it is! Lack of caution or prevention is the whole cause of the trouble. Most likely your generator is overcharg-
ing the battery."

"Too high a charging rate, like any other form of spread, causes
over-heating, which not only burns
the natural wearing out of a battery, but is likely to result in carbonized separators, buckled plates, and disintegration of positives. You see,
it's a serious matter."

"Of course, a certain amount of heating must naturally accompany the charging of a battery even at the normal rate, but when the temperature gets beyond a certain point it makes trouble. Adjustments of the charging rate should be made in each case for the average conditions
under which the car is to be driven,
so that the correct rate for one car might be too high for another of the same model."

"An excessive charging rate is the
storage battery's greatest enemy.
Remember that overheating is the warning that the enemy is with you,
and that you may rely on the service station as your ally in dealing with it."

POWERFUL KICK IN DENVER "HOCH"

DENVER -- Home-brewed Denver
"hooh" has a powerful kick. So says State Prohibition Director
Frank Medina, but it kicks its victims into a wooden box or into locomotor atavism, he adds.

The moonshine of today, maddled bottled in 1920, is becoming
"worse and worse," Medina claims.
Its poisonous qualities lie in the shoring matter used and in the crude method of distillation, according to Medina.

Recently he made a test of a particular brand of "white mule" that was confiscated in a raid. A heavy ruler was dipped in the liquid and within a few minutes, the varnish had been taken off clean. The ruler was saved from complete destruction
only by taking it out of the alleged whiskey.

State officials are keeping a close watch on the activities of moonshiners, who it is claimed, are doing a profitable business between the Colorado and the southern Wyoming towns.

Franklin Car Makes a Record On Western Roads

Crossing three high mountain passes in a single day (one of these
the third highest in California traversed by an auto road) and completing a round trip of 327.5 miles over mountain roads in fifteen hours
and ten minutes with a gasoline mileage of 19.55 miles per gallon, is the unusual record hung up on July 25 by J. T. Lusignan of Stockton, Calif., in a stock Franklin touring car. An average speed of 25.5 miles per hour was maintained without breaking any of the speed laws and on a consumption of only 16.75 gallons of gasoline and 1.5 quarts of oil.

Lusignan started out from Stockton at two o'clock in the morning with L. M. Cutting and Harry Mc-Cormick as passengers. He piloted his mount over the Placerville highway via Sacramento to the world-famous Lake Tahoe, returning via Markleeville and the Calaveras Big Trees. On the return trip over the Big Trees route, Lusignan was forced to climb the notorious double
"S" Summit, 8,800 feet above sea level, and with a grade of 28%.

Many motorists essay this climb and fail. Others will not attempt it at all.

The car which Lusignan drove was the same stock car with which he won first place in the San Joaquin Auto Trade Association's annual reliability and economy run on May 27 and 28. It has been driven more than 14,000 miles.

Considering the amount of second and low gear work necessary over rough mountain roads of the "gasoline variety," the gasoline consumption was quite remarkable. The entire trip, too, was made under every day touring conditions. Not even a spare tire was taken along,
although the tires used had already gone over 14,000 miles. There were, moreover, no gas saving devices or mechanical adjustments of any kind to increase mileage possibilities of the car. What pleased Lusignan most of all, though, was the fact that not the slightest accident or sign of "grief" marred the trip, and that it wasn't necessary to make a single adjustment.
